PROFESSIONAL FIDUCIARIES BUREAU HISTORY

The Professional Fiduciaries Bureau was established by Senate Bill 1550 in 1006. The Bureau's mandate is to license and regulate certain non-family member private fiduciaries, including conservators, guardians, trustees, and agents under durable power of attorney as defined in the Professional Fiduciaries Act (Act). As passed by Senate Bill 1550, the Act required all specified fiduciaries be licensed by July 1, 2008. However, the licensing deadline was subsequently extended to January 1, 2009 by Senate Bill 1047 in 2007 with an exception for new court appointments. Between July 1 and December 31, 2008, a court is still prohibited from appointing a professional fiduciary subject to the Act unless they hold a license issued by the Bureau.

Processing Applications and Approving Applicants

Approval of a complete application package is necessary for licensure. An applicant must complete each section of the application package, include written explanation for affirmative answers when required, attach the required documentation, and submit a $400 application processing fee with the application. Failure to submit a complete application package will result in the application being deemed incomplete.

Upon initial receipt of a licensing application package, the Bureau will notify an applicant in writing within 90 days that the application package is complete and accepted for filing or that it is deficient and what specific information or documentation is needed. A licensing application package that is incomplete for more than 12 months will be abandoned and the application fee forfeited.

Once the application is complete, the Bureau will conduct an evaluation to determine whether the applicant meets the requirements for licensure and if so will approve them to be a licensed California Professional Fiduciary. Then, upon receipt of a notice of approval, an applicant must submit the Initial licensing fee to complete the process. Any false, dishonest, or misleading statements in the application or in the accompanying attachments are grounds for denial, or subsequent suspension or revocation of an issued license.

Examination Information

An applicant must be deemed eligible by the Bureau to take the licensing examination. Once eligible, examination candidates must contact the Center for Guardianship Certification (CGC) to register for the examination. The examination application form can be obtained from the CGC web site or by contacting CGC at:

The Bureau will not accept examination application forms or any examination related fees.

The examination consists of two parts, one part that is national in scope and one part that is specific to California law. An applicant must pass both parts of the examination to be considered for licensure.

A candidate has 12 months in which to pass the examination. If the candidate fails to pass one or both parts of the examination they may sit for re-examination a maximum of four times within the 12-month eligibility period not to exceed one re-examination attempt every 30 days. Failure to pass both parts of the examination within the 12-month eligibility period will deem a licensing application incomplete and abandoned.

Criminal Background Check

An applicant must submit a full set of fingerprints to a California Department of Justice live scan center for the purpose of conducting a criminal background check. Fingerprints will be compared to the records of the California Department of Justice and the Federal Bureau of Investigation to determine whether a criminal history exists.
